Introduction

This manual is intended as a guide to using the name and logo (also referred to as "brand signatures") of The Hospital and Healthsystem Association of Pennsylvania (HAP) in both internal and external communications.

The HAP logo should always be used in a consistent, proper form to maintain a standard in the way others view our organization.

Templates

Templates are available for the most frequently used documents to help maintain the HAP brand. These easy-to-use templates have been set up with the proper branding, font, and document properties.

Templates also can be accessed directly in the Common files at K:\Administration\Templates and from the HAP intranet.

Once you open the template, save it with your own file name in your department files.

HAP Logo

The HAP logo is the most important aspect of our brand. The connecting letters showcase the united community of HAP. The ribbon portrays the diverse health care organizations within our community.

PREFERRED BRANDING:
Logo with two-line name

Other logo formats are also available:

Logo with one-line name

Logo with four-line name

Logo only (no name)

This is normally used in a second (and subsequent) page header immediately followed by recipient's name (correspondence) or HAP Memo number (HAP Memo), then date, and page number.

Examples of second sheet correspondence and HAP memos:

Honorable John Doe

HAP Memo 25-01

Logo formats

HAP logos are available in .jpg and .png (transparent background) at Common/Logos/HAP and as downloads at HAP's intranet.

If you need to resize the logo because it's too large, click on the graphic, and drag one of the corner circles toward the center of the graphic, ensuring that the height and width remain in proportion.

NOTE: You cannot resize a too-small logo to a larger size. Contact Communications Department staff if you need a logo size that's larger or a vector (.ai or .eps) format.

Appearance

- Do NOT separate the logo and HAP's name in the graphics; a graphic-only image file is available for your use
- Do not "re-create" or alter HAP's logo using software programs or online design creators
- Never remove any element from the original artwork, modify the elements, or rotate or distort the logo

Other logo options

Other logo options are available upon request and can be used when special circumstances exist (i.e., significant space restrictions, grayscale-only color, special transparency, etc.)

Please consult with Communications Department staff with questions about the proper use of HAP's logo or with special requests for your projects.

HAP's name in text

In most cases, when introduced in text, The Hospital and Healthsystem Association of Pennsylvania should be referred to by its full name on first reference. Always spell out the "and." (Do not use "+" or "&" in place of the "and.") In subsequent references, "HAP" may be used. Always use uppercase letters for HAP.

- "The" is part of HAP's name; please include and capitalize it
- Pennsylvania, when written in HAP's name, should always be spelled out

Colors

The colors in the HAP brand have been chosen to strengthen its visual impact. Whenever possible, HAP's colors should be used in HAP materials.

Font

HAP has three primary fonts, each with its own preferred use. These fonts allow for additional professionalism plus enhanced flexibility in the creation of HAP materials.

TAHOMA for most digital communications, such as member correspondence, emails, e-publications:

Tahoma is the primary font for most digital communications, such as HAP memos and bulletins, emails, and email signatures.

GEORGIA for certain professional correspondence:

Georgia is used for external communications with a signature, such as official letters, advocacy correspondence, and regulatory comments, as well as written testimony. Documents using the Georgia font typically are shared in print or PDF format and include a signature (with the exception of testimony).

Example: An email from HAP staff to members/staff of a legislative committee would use Tahoma font. A signed letter from HAP's CEO to members of the General Assembly would use Georgia font.

MONTSERRAT for more visual, creative pieces:

Montserrat is used for more visual items such as fact sheets, most HAP reports, infographics, and other creative graphics such as social media posts. In addition, Montserrat also is suitable for PowerPoint presentations, flyers, event invitations, HAP event programs, and other event materials.

Note: Because Montserrat font does not come pre-installed on all computers, it should not be used for documents that will be shared as Word or Excel files. Instead, it should be reserved for finished products like PDFs, printed materials, or PowerPoint presentations.

About Montserrat Font

Montserrat font is not one of the fonts available in Microsoft Office but can be easily downloaded and installed. Instructions are available; please contact Communications staff if you have questions or concerns about downloading and/or installing the font.

A Note for Canva Users

Since a number of HAP staff create HAP materials using Canva or other online graphics platforms, designating fonts for HAP materials is not intended to hinder your efforts.

The paid version of Canva will allow you to upload fonts; use of the HAP designated fonts is preferred. But, the free version of Canva does not allow font uploads and Canva's fonts will not match HAP's preferred fonts. It is asked that, in such instances, discretion is used to always maintain the high-quality and professionalism of HAP materials. As always, Communications staff is available to assist with any materials you create.

Promotional items

HAP's branding is suited to other uses in addition to publications and letterhead. These uses may include, but are not limited to, promotional items such as pins, mugs, pens, and shirts. As always, it is important to adhere to the guidelines concerning color and typography.

When working with outside vendors, provide them with an electronic version of the logo, a color example (letterhead or business card), and the CMYK, RGB, and/or the Hex color information.

Communications has other file formats available that may be more suitable for this purpose; please consult with the Communications Department as you develop publications or promotional items, and prior to ordering.
